

Sulphur's oldest citizen turns 103

By John Bridges

Published: Apr. 28, 2016 at 8:22 AM CDT|Updated: Apr. 28, 2016 at 10:37 AM CDT

SULPHUR, LA (KPLC) - Evalise "Tiny" Rentrop turned 103 years old on Monday, retaining her title as the City of Sulphur's oldest resident. Her family, friends and dog all celebrated.

What is it like to be 103?

"Terrible. (she smiles)"

Born in Leroy, Louisiana on April 25, 1913, Tiny is the oldest of seven children.

"I am shocked. I didn't know I had so many friends. I love them all."

Tiny says she loved having children.

"I guess every time I had a new baby, that was something to cuddle up with."

Does she have any words of advice to living to 103?

"Yes I do. When I wake up in the morning, I say Good morning Lord. Thank you for another night. Gave me another day."

How many presidents have you seen in your lifetime?

"All of them!"

Copyright 2016 KPLC-TV. All rights reserved.